

Academics with Media Expertise

Ruben Zaiotti

Dalhousie University (Political Science)

Regular contributor to national and international media.

Director, Jean Monnet European Union Centre of Excellence, Jean Monnet Chair in Public Diplomacy, Former president of the European Studies Community Association (ECSA-C).

R.Zaiotti@Dal.Ca / @JMChairDal

Blogs: Schengenalia.com, SchengenBorderArt.com

Fields of Expertise

European politics, European Union, migration, borders, security, diplomacy, social media, transatlantic relations

Recent Media Topics:

Brexit, migration crisis, CETA, populism in Europe

Media Expertise - Examples

“The latest Brexit developments”, CTV News, Halifax (NS), April 7th 2019, ctv.news/wYE83hd

TV: CTV News, Global News (TV)

Print/Online: Public Finance, Global News Halifax, “European Politics and Policy (Blog, London School of Economics and Political Science)

Radio: News 95.7

Tips for TV/Radio interviews:

“ Keep your contribution short and incisive. But don’t shy away from tackling big questions. You should inform and make people think, not just provide sound bites.”

Why engaging with media ?

“Reaching out to a broader public has always been an important task for academics. This is truer than ever today, when expertise is under attack from multiple fronts. Media engagement remains the most effective tool to contribute to an open and informed public discourse.”